The story of the musical "Once Upon a Mattress" has been around a very long time. This comedy is originally based on the Hans Christensen Anderson's fairy tale - The Princess and the Pea. It was adapted and opened on Broadway in 1959 with Carol Burnett starring as Princess Winifred the Woebegone (Fred). The play was written by Jay Thompson, Dean Fuller and Marshall Barer - lyrics by Marshall Barer and music by Mary Rodgers. The musical is about a 15th century kingdom where no one can marry until the Queen Aggravain finds a suitable bride for her son, Prince Dauntless. It includes a plotting Queen, a cursed King, a confident princess, and other colorful characters to capture your attention. This is a must see starring stellar local talent: Stazyia Richman as Queen Aggravain, Gion Carlo De Stefano as King Sextimus the Silent, Amie Schamberg as Princess Winifred the Woebegone, Brandon Cadwell as Prince Dauntless the Drab, Miranda Van Guilder as Lady Larken, Alex Honeycutt as Sir Harry, Wade Tripp as the Wizard, Shawmus Sargent as Evadeam the Wizard's

Apprentice, David Van Guilder as the Jester and Sean Taboloff as the Minstrel. There is a superb supporting cast of lively characters sure to keep you entertained, Lea Peters, Christina Proffitt, Sophronia Johnson, Rysha Maier, Hannah Jackson, Jennifer Van Guilder, Ben Van Guilder, Tom Sargent and Kevin Christensen. Grant Updates

Woodlands grant committee continues to forge ahead with plans to improve and preserve our theater. Big news this winter is that the Vinson Fund approved our request for lighted signage for the front of our building. We will now be able to more efficiently and professionally let you know about what is going on and upcoming performances.

We are also very excited to see our vision for the façade upgrade move one step closer to reality. Sean Taboloff turned our ideas for restoring the historic character of the building into a real image to work towards an initial architectural drawing of the front of the façade. With the help of knowledgeable volunteers including our facilities chairman Andrew Urbaniak, and several professionals including Tom Bristol of Purple Flattop, Josh Carlen of Carlen Housewrights and Baldwin Sign in Spokane, we were able to come up with a budget for a second Community Strategies grant application to Inland NW Community Foundation. The request is for approximately half of the $60,000 estimated cost. Woodland must still rely on our generous supporters and donors to make this dream a reality.

At the same time, we also must ask for your help in contacting legislators to request that the entire Heritage Preservation Fund proposal be included in the 2017-19 Washington State Budget. The Woodland Theatre Repair and Restoration request for 2018 includes replacing the last deteriorating stucco on the back side of the building and enclosing soffits, gable ends and the back porch to preserve our building. This request is near the end of a prioritized list of requests, and it is critical that the entire proposed budget be funded. The Woodland request is the only one from the NE WA region of the state.
